

PARTICIPANTS NEEDED FOR RESEARCH ON COMPETENCIES IN BLACK HEALTH

Are you a community member, medical trainee, public health trainee, physician, or public health professional? Do you have experience with the Canadian healthcare system? Or have you worked to support Black patients and communities?

We want to hear about your experience.

This is a national research study to get feedback to support the implementation of Black health competencies in medical and public health education for students and professionals. Participating in this study will assist in improving the lives of Black people across Canada as we identify and disrupt anti-Black racism in healthcare systems and create better systems.

What does participation involve?

- Completing a sociodemographic survey
- 60-minute virtual focus group

We want to hear from community members, medical trainees, doctors, and public health professionals who are:

- 18 years of age or older
- Live, work, or reside in Canada
- Self-identify as Black

Participants will receive $50.

Keep up with us here:
<https://www.bhec.ca/nlc>

For more information contact the Research Coordinator, Robert Chin-see at cihr-comp@bhec.ca

[This study has REB approval file# 2024-7285 at Dalhousie University]